Description

'Glitters Like Gold' is a hybrid Rudbeckia cultivar with 3" wide golden blooms. This Black Eyed Susan has a more intense bloom, greater bloom volume and more disease resistance than other Rudbeckia selections. Best grown in average, evenly moist, well-drained soils in full sun. Tolerates hot and humid summers and some drought once established. Deadhead spent flowers to encourage additional bloom. Attracts pollinators and ripened seed heads provide fodder for songbirds in fall and winter. May flop and requires staking in rich, fertile soils. Divide clumps every 4-5 years to maintain robust growth. Massed or grouped in mixed perennial borders, cutting gardens, cottage gardens, and native plantings.
